My favorite book is hatchet by Gary Paulsen. The book tells the story of a boy named brian, who is stranded in the wilderness in canada after the plane he is flying on crashes into a small lake. Luckily, Brian in unharmed and is able to ashore swim, but the pilot does not survive. Brian finds himself a loan with nothing more than a Hatchet, surrounded by what seems an endless wilderness. Instead of greiving, Brian thinks about the advice he received from his old English teacher, Mister Perpich, to always keep a positive attitude. Brian teaches himself how to hunt and fish he finds a shelter to escape the cold and elements. There are many surprise along the way, but Brian is courageous, takeing advantage of the few resources available to him. Does Brian ever escape the canadian wilderness. You'll have to read the book to find out. Go grab 1 or two copies and share them with friends.
