Complete each item below.

1. Discuss one way you can check that you are ready to create.

(Answers will vary.) You are ready to create if you have asked a lot of questions, filled out a planning sheet, and gathered lots of information about your topic.

2. What are the three parts that writing assignments, speeches, and presentations have?

These projects each have a beginning, a middle, and an ending.

3. How does order of importance work?

Order of importance places details from most to least or from least to most important. When you want your audience to agree with you or to take some action, save the most important reason for last.

4. Which informational structure would work best for discussing the similarities and differences between two things?

a. Importance

c. Time

b. Location

d. Comparison-contrast

5. Which part of a narrative structure introduces the characters in a story and describes the setting?

a. Exposition

c. Climax

b. Rising action

d. Ending

6. Name two of the most common visual elements.

(Any two of these) Line, color, value, form, texture, space
