

Review: Conducting Advanced Research

Name _____

Date _____

Your Turn Answer the questions below about one of your current research projects.

1. What primary sources of information would be well suited to this project? How must you prepare to find or use these sources?

2. What secondary sources of information does your research project call for? Where can you find them?

3. What tertiary sources might be applicable to your project, either for basic information or for a useful overview?

4. What “deep Web” sources might benefit your research?

5. What precautions can you take to avoid source abuses in your research, especially in regard to this particular project?

6. Which of the citation styles discussed in chapter 24 is appropriate for your research project?
