Your Turn Answer the following questions.

1. How is creative thinking part of the problem-solving process?

2. Which graphic organizer works well to analyze a problem? Describe it.

3. What role does a trait evaluation play in the problem-solving process?

4. Problem solving is actually a version of which other process?

5. Scientists follow the scientific method to carry out experiments (and solve problems). Name the steps in this method.

Reflect: Consider how both critical and creative thinking are a part of the scientific method.
