A publishing company has charged you with the following assignment. Create a table of contents for a book entitled A Day in the Life of a Student at (the name of your school). Each chapter in your book should address a different part of school life.

Your Turn

Team up with a group of three or four classmates to create your table of contents. Employ effective group skills and brainstorming to complete your work. (See Inquire pages 90–91 and 98.) Use the space below for a final copy of the chapters in your table of contents. (Example chapter: “Surviving the School Bus”)
